Their debut will be at the pipe band's annual Scotland Tonight show on Sunday 22 November, and new members are welcome at anytime - singing experience not necessary. Randy has also arranged to begin holding a celebration of the Gaelic arts here in Ottawa with the first National Capital Mod to be held on Saturday 21 November at the Kent Street Legion. This will be a terrific, fun competition with lots of variety and something for people of all ages. Please pass along the information to anyone you think may be interested in taking part or coming out to watch. Song, speaking, small pipes, fiddling and harp playing are all part of this day, so there's something for everyone! Tom Foote. Tom played briefly with Clan McFarlane and then joined the 78th Fraser's while Reid Maxwell was lead-tip. He played for the Toronto Metro Police Band under Drew Duthart in the early 90's, then with Peel Regional Police and most recently with the Toronto Police Pipe Band under Lead Drummer Doug Stronach. Tom is a certified snare drumming adjudicator with EUSPBA and PPBSO and is finishing his certification in Ensemble with EUSPBA.

Scott Nicholson. Scott competed with Rob Roy under Lead Drummer Chris Bell before moving on to the Grade 1 Scottish Lion 78th Fraser Highlanders. During his ten years with the Frasers they won many drum corps and band prizes including several North American, Canadian and U.S. titles with Lead Drummers Michael Hunter, John Fisher and Drew Duthart. Scott was a Canadian Professional Champion in 2005. In 2008 Scott played for the Spirit of Scotland Pipe Band under John Fisher.

Rob MacLeod. Rob has played with the Black Watch (RHR) of Canada, Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa, the 2nd Mechanized Brigade Pipe Band, the Ottawa Police Services Pipe Band, the Fraser Highlanders of Ottawa and the Glengarry Grade 2 Pipe Band. National Police and Peace Officers' Memorial Service

The 32nd National Police and Peace Officers' Memorial Service was held on Parliament Hill, Ottawa, Sunday 27 September 2009. Under cool temperatures and cloudy skies, over 2,000 police and peace officers participated in the solemn ceremony.

The National Peace and Police Officers' Memorial Service is held every year, providing an opportunity for families, friends, colleagues and all Canadians to pay tribute to the brave and dedicated men and women who lost their lives while protecting Canadian communities. Among the new names that were added to the honour roll were: Constable Alan Hack (Ontario Provincial Police – Elgin County), Constable James Lunblad (Royal Canadian Mounted Police – Alberta), and Constable Eric Lavoie (Laval Police Service). Other historical names that were added this year were: Forest Officer Donat Lalonde (Department of Forestry, Lands and Wildlife – Albert Forest Services (1988)), Constable Jean Claude Phoenix (Saint Jean Police Service (1978)), Constable Charles Denis (St Joseph de Sorel Municipal Police Service (1958)), and Constable Frank Hare (Port Dover Police (1951)). The Service is a lasting tribute to the sacrifice of those brave men and women. "THEY ARE OUR HEROES, WE SHALL NOT FORGET THEM". Their names are forever etched on the glass panels erected along the perimeter wall adjacent to the Memorial Pavilion which now totals over 750 fallen officers.

More than 250 pipers and drummers participated in the 2009 Memorial Parade, joined by the Ceremonial Band of the Waterloo Regional Police Service. Pipe bands represented this year included the Ottawa Police Service, the Halton Regional Police, the Hamilton Police, the Windsor Police, the Niagara Regional Police, the Durham Regional Police, the OPP Commissioner's Own Pipes and Drums, the Greater Sudbury Regional Police, the York Regional Police, the Air Command Pipes and Drums, the Toronto Police, the Peel Regional Police, the Brockville Police, the CBSA (Corrections, US Border Patrol and Cleveland Police), and the RCMP Pipes and Drums (with members from Ottawa, Montreal, Moncton, Halifax and Newfoundland).

Passages

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Leslie Audrey McCarthy. Leslie was well known and respected in the Eastern Ontario pipe band community. She was an integral part of the Sons of Scotland Pipe Band, the Ogilvy Pipe Band and the Air Force Pipe Band as well as one of the driving forces behind the Ottawa Piping Club (including sitting on the Executive).

She was a very kind and cheerful person always willing to lend a hand wherever it was needed. Whether it was hauling everyone to band practices, contests, parades and fundraisers, or often offering to transport most of the band in the family suburban to distant parades, she was a tireless supporter of the piping and drumming community. She was one of the key members of the executive for the revival of the early Ottawa Highland Games and a regular attendee at all the local area highland games and band fundraising galas. She volunteered much time through the Ottawa Police Association and the Ottawa Police Golden Club to help out at the functions for the annual National Police Memorial weekend.

Leslie is survived by her two sons Rob (currently a piper with the Air Command Pipes and Drums) and Allan (a drummer who played with Rob in the Sons of Scotland, the Ogilvy Pipe Band, and with the Air Force). Known by many, loved and respected by all that knew her, she's left an enormous hole in everyone's lives with her untimely passing.

This is the eleventh in an on-going series of profiles of local pipers/drummers who have made a significant contribution to the Pipe Band world. In this issue it is a family commitment that follows. Both Scott Bell, as Pipe Major of the Rob Roy Pipe Band, and Carol-Anne Bell, as Dance Director of the Rob Roy Pipe Band, have been instrumental in a fostering a new generation of pipers, drummers, and dancers in Eastern Ontario. Their enthusiasm and the long, long hours dedicated to celtic music and dance has been very much appreciated by everyone touched by their lives.

Pipe Major Scott Bell and Carol-Anne Bell “The Heart of the Rob Roy Pipe Band and Highland Dancers”

MacLellan and Bill Livingstone. He has also been to the “Timmins Piping School” with instructors Seamus McNeil, James MacIntosh and Harry McNulty.

As a solo competitor Scott won Champion Supreme Grade 2 in both light music and piobrachd and played Grade 1 solos until he took on the role of Pipe Major for Rob Roy. Scott became Pipe Major of Rob Roy in 1984 at the age of eighteen and has been Pipe Major for twenty five years now! Being the Pipe Major of any band is a demanding job, but Scott still found time to play and compete with the Grade 2 Niagara Regional Police Pipe Band for three years. He has played under Al Arsh, Tom Anderson and Dave Goodall. Scott played with Niagara at the World Championships at which they placed sixth.

Scott has kept busy over the years with his two children also following in the Scottish tradition Lindsay (piper and highland dancer) and Iain a drummer. Three years ago Scott completed his judges exam with B level in solo and pipe bands. For the past three years Scott has also been a member of PPBSO Music Board.

As Pipe Major he also has taken on many other jobs for the organization. He ran the “Kingston School of Scottish Music and Dance” with Carol-Anne for ten years. Wanting to offer a spring outdoor event Scott has been instrumental in organizing the very successful Ontario Power Generation (OPG) Celtfest in Kingston for the past five years.

Over the years there have been many highlights and special memories for him. He has played in Scotland six times with five of them as Pipe Major. Champion Supreme wins always bring a big smile to his face, but one of the biggest smiles came at the World Pipe Band Championships in 2007. The band won the qualifier (4A) and placed eighth in the final. That was a special trip for the entire Bell family as seven members of the family were playing in the band and two were dancing. Scott’s brother Chris was the lead drummer/drum sergeant/instructor for many years with Rob Roy and Scott always enjoyed playing with him. Scott has had the privilege of “piping in” former Premier Bill Davis, Princess Diana, Governor General Jean Sauvé and Brian Mulroney. Scott enjoys taking members of the band and dancers to Ottawa for the yearly Burn's Supper hosted by Peter Milliken. What keeps the Rob Roy organization going strong is the teaching program and the accomplishments of many students who have moved on to higher grade bands.

Rob Roy is lucky to also have highland dancers as part of the organization. Carol-Anne started to dance with Rob Roy in the early 1970's with instructor Susan Sutherland. She has attended Brockville Summer School under the direction of J.L. MacKenzie and Elsbeth Strathan. In 1983 Carol-Anne became the dance director for the Rob Roy Highland Dancers. Carol-Anne was a piper with that band, too. She piped for eight years and won a Champion Supreme title. Carol-Anne has attained her Fellow SDTA and judges papers. To complete her judge's papers she went to Las Vegas with J.L MacKenzie and Sheena MacDonald examining her. Carol-Anne has judged all over Canada and many places in the United States. Over the years Carol-Anne has taught workshops at Royal Military College in Kingston and other dance studios in the area. Many of Carol-Anne's students have gone on to open their own studios. Kingston used to host a large multicultural weekend "Folklore". Carol-Anne was always busy choreographing performances for the dancers to perform with the band that weekend. She continues to organize two yearly competitions in Kingston. Rob Roy highland dancers under Carol-Anne's direction have gone to Canadians several times to compete and also in Scotland. While travelling in Scotland the dancers have done performances at Stirling Castle, Princes Street Garden, Rob Roy Centre, Melrose Abbey, and Blair Castle all being accompanied by the band.

The Rob Roy Pipe Band and Highland dancers are very lucky to have to the dedication, enthusiasm and direction of Scott and Carol-Anne Bell. Keeping it in the family, Scott continues to be Pipe Major, Scott Nicholson (brother-in-law) is lead drummer/drum sergeant, Carol-Anne dance director and Heather Nicholson (sister) is a highland dance instructor.

EASTERN ONTARIO CHAMPIONS SUPREME 2009

The fourth Eastern Ontario Champion Supreme awards were handed out at the October meeting of the Ottawa Branch. With points accumulated at the indoor Games in Kemptville and Smiths Falls, at the Kingston Celtfest, and the traditional outdoor Games at Spencerville, Maxville, Montreal and Almonte, the final results recognized those Ottawa Branch pipers, drummers and pipe bands who had the most overall success during the 2009 season at our local events. Plaques were presented to all the winners below. Certificates went to the second and third place finishers (see the September 2009 newsletter for complete results). A huge debt of thanks again goes out to the Scottish and Irish Store of Bells Corners who very graciously sponsored this year's plaques and certificates.
